Antitrust Litigation

DOAR supports leading trial teams in antitrust disputes that shape industries, redefine markets, and draw national attention. For more than 35 years, we have helped prominent attorneys navigate matters involving complex economic issues, market power allegations, competitive business conduct, regulatory scrutiny, and high-profile merger challenges.

By integrating testifying experts, jury consulting, and trial consulting services, DOAR helps trial teams develop clear, credible, and persuasive strategies for presenting sophisticated antitrust cases.

DOAR

TESTIFYING EXPERTS

DOAR provides testifying experts who bring industry insight and credibility to complex antitrust disputes. Our experts include senior executives in emerging areas of litigation, including artificial intelligence, aerospace and transportation, cryptocurrency, and pharmaceuticals.

JURY CONSULTING

Through focus groups, mock trials, and large-sample online research, we help trial teams understand how jurors are likely to evaluate the conduct at issue in antitrust matters and what arguments are most likely to move them. Our research identifies points of confusion and skepticism so counsel can refine themes, prepare witnesses, and develop a trial strategy grounded in how jurors actually respond to case themes and arguments.

TRIAL CONSULTING

DOAR's trial consulting team works alongside counsel to build a clear visual and evidentiary framework for the case, using graphics and presentation tools to connect key documents, testimony, data, and expert opinions. The result is a trial presentation that helps factfinders understand complicated business conduct and economic analysis while keeping the trial team organized and ready to respond in real time.
