Working with DOAR

As a DOAR affiliate expert, you have access to a team of experienced professionals and resources designed to support you throughout your engagement. From day-to-day coordination to guidance on expert reports, supporting visuals, and testimony preparation, DOAR can help you navigate the expert process and prepare for key stages of a matter.

Affiliation with DOAR means more than opportunities to contribute your expertise to complex, high-profile litigation. It means having a team behind you that understands the demands of litigation and can connect you with additional resources when they may benefit you and the matter.

When matter-specific graphics, witness preparation, trial consulting, or other specialized support may be valuable, your DOAR litigation manager can bring the appropriate team members into the conversation and work with you and the client or law firm to determine next steps.

Engaging with DOAR on Matters

DEDICATED TO YOUR SUCCESS

We value our relationships with affiliate experts and the specialized knowledge and professional judgment you bring to each engagement. Our goal is to complement that expertise with litigation consulting experience, coordination, and practical resources that help you navigate the expert process and present your work effectively.

DOAR's Additional Support Resources

EXPERT REPORTS AND SUPPORTING VISUALS

Expert reports require complex data, research, and analysis to be communicated clearly and efficiently. Well-designed visuals can be critical to that effort, helping organize information, illustrate relationships, and make sophisticated concepts easier to understand. The layout, format, and design of these visuals can be as important as the information they are meant to convey.

We can help identify opportunities where information design may strengthen the presentation of your analysis and develop supporting visuals that communicate complex information clearly and effectively.

EXPERT WITNESS PREPARATION

Preparing to testify requires a different set of skills than applying your subject-matter expertise. DOAR's trial consultants can help you develop specialized skills and practical techniques for communicating your opinions clearly and confidently in deposition, hearing, arbitration, and trial settings.

Witness preparation may include one-on-one consultation and video-based practice focused on the demands of direct and cross-examination, different testimony settings, and other challenges experts may encounter.

A Note on Additional Services

Some support may be provided as general orientation or guidance through your affiliate relationship with DOAR; however, matter-specific graphics consulting, demonstrative development, witness preparation, trial consulting, or similar strategic support are separate DOAR services that must be approved by the client or law firm as they involve additional client fees. We encourage you to raise these opportunities with your DOAR litigation manager early so that DOAR can help assess whether, when, and how to bring them to the client team.
